

of alumni parents report that their family received the help they needed

of alumni parents report that their daughter received the help she needed

of alumni parents would refer someone else to CRA

“CRA more than met our expectations. Staff were skilled, loving and Christ like in their care of our daughter and family. We feel equipped to bring her home to begin the next phase.”

YOUTH OUTCOME QUESTIONNAIRE

One of the ways we measure outcomes is through the Youth Outcome Questionnaire (Y-OQ). The Y-OQ is a measure of treatment progress for children and adolescents (ages 4–17) receiving mental health interventions. It is designed to reflect the total amount of distress that a child or adolescent is experiencing. Scores below 47 indicate that functioning has improved and is below clinical threshold.

